Experience an unforgettable Vietnamese adventure, seamlessly blending historical exploration with the Mekong Delta's captivating beauty. A scenic drive from Ho Chi Minh City initiates your journey towards the renowned Cu Chi Tunnels. As you approach, the modern world fades, yielding to echoes of a turbulent past.

At Cu Chi, prepare to be captivated by the intricate tunnel network, once home to an underground city. Narrow passageways are navigated, showcasing the ingenuity and resilience of past inhabitants. Re-created wartime scenes, including underground kitchens and command centers, are then experienced. Vivid narratives from your guide will bring the past vividly to life.

After enjoying traditional wartime refreshments – tea and cassava – you'll embark on a journey to My Tho, gateway to the majestic Mekong Delta.

A relaxing boat trip along the Tien River follows. The gentle breeze accompanies you as you sail past islands bearing mythical names: Dragon, Unicorn, Phoenix, and Tortoise. A delightful lunch featuring local delicacies is offered, each island providing unique perspectives on delta life; from flourishing fruit orchards to time-honored artisan workshops.

A transition to a traditional sampan offers a serene passage through narrow canals, fringed by water coconut palms. The lush Mekong scenery is punctuated by glimpses of daily life. A bicycle tour is then undertaken, traversing quiet village paths where time seems to slow. Warm smiles from locals foster genuine connections.

A visit to a coconut candy workshop awakens your senses with its sweet aroma. The region's delicious fruits – pineapples, mangoes, and more – are savored. As the day concludes, traditional Southern Vietnamese folk music provides a fitting end to a day of enriching experiences.

Upon your Ho Chi Minh City return, a deep understanding of Southern Vietnam's rich history and culture will be carried. This isn't merely sightseeing; rather, a transformative Vietnamese immersion is offered, leaving lasting impressions. The soul of Vietnam is experienced, profoundly impacting visitors.

Near the estuary of Thu Bon River, Hoi An Coconut Forest is 200-years-old. During the Vietnam war, communists (Vietcong) made full use of its vastness, interlaced canals and inaccessibility by big boats, to build a hiding base. They used basket boats to move around like locals and now, travelers have a similar experience. During the ride, how people catch small crabs by the rob or fishes by the net, and the “dance” (boat spinning) absolutely can be expected. In 2009, the forest became a part of a Unesco world biosphere reserve.

By the Thu Bon River, Hoi An is the best-preserved trading town in South-east Asia. Thrived between 15th and 19th centuries, this international hub of commerce drew foreign merchants coming to trade whose nationality were Chinese, Japanese, Dutch, Portuguese and more. Lost its important role in the end of the nineteenth century, architectural heritages and culture of local inhabitants in Hoi An today are still unchanged. There are lots of opportunities to
